

Let's never forget Sammy Jackson; A simple & wonderful man

DADDY

Original poem by: Sharrina & Alisha Jackson

Strong and humble
Someone we trust
You will always be with us
We never felt lonely
Your love spoke loudly
Proudest in our hearts
We won't fall apart
A beautiful light shines upon
We're safe with life blessings and heavens new angel
Forever love – Our Daddy!

For Uncle Sam

From: Teatonr

Lady, the name he had for his sister in law, my mother.

Sam was a great man and after death, I found out that he was an even greater man. I thank God that he brought him into my Aunt's life because I would have never known him and grew to love him. He always treated me like one of his daughters.

I never had many regrets in my life, but now I do. My Uncle was a great cook for those who don't know. He made the best apple pies from scratch and BBQ pork chops with orange slices. I always meant to ask him the recipes.

But I was a little too late. I loved my uncle dearly, never got the chance to say I loved him. Once again I was a little too late. But to my Aunt Robin and my cousins Sharrina and Alisha, I won't be a little too late. I love you guys with all my heart and I thank you for sharing Sam with me. I am very thankful.

So this message is to Sam: You never got the chance to know my daughter Tionne and will never get the chance to meet my son Gavin. But I will let them know about you and how great an uncle and man you were. Tionne told me she wished she would have known you and to let you know that your spirit will always be with us. She's a very smart little girl and I wished you could have had a chance to see it.

They always say at times like this don't say goodbye, say see you later. See you later Sam.

Love always,
Your niece Teatonr

The Ultimate Coach Called Me

I'm sorry I had to leave you, my friends and family
But you see the Ultimate Coach called me.

His voice was very clear
I heard His whistle he called the play
He felt my work was done
I'm home with Him and you should know
It's a victory that I've won

I know your hearts are heavy because I have gone away.

I thank you for all you did for me
But, I just could not stay

The Ultimate Coach called me
And He makes no mistakes

He'll give you all the strength you need
When there's a goal you have to make

He desires your faith
Look to Him when obstacles get in your way

Remember God - the Ultimate Coach
He'll keep you all your days
